What the Illustrious Abernethy Said.

"Well, sir, what's the matter," said Abernethy, the great English surgeon, to a cadaverous-looking patient, who had called to consult him. "Oh, nothing serious," was the reply, my stomach and liver are out of order, that's all." "Do you call that nothing serious?" said Abernethy; "I tell you, sir, that when these two organs are out of order, as you call it, there's not a square inch of the body that is not more or less diseased, nor a drop of blood in it that is in a healthful condition." Nothing can be more true; therefore it is of the very highest importance to keep the stomach and liver in a vigorous condition. If the one weak and the other irregular in its action, tone and control them with Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters—the most genial vegetable Restorative and Alternative that has ever been administered as a cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Disease. It is recommended by distinguished surgeons and physicians of the United States Army, by officers of the army and navy, by our first authors, by eminent clergymen—in fact, by thousands of the most intelligent of every class, as an unequalled protective against epidemic and malarious diseases, and as a perfectly innocuous, but at the same time powerful, invigorant and alterative.

Two other meals of good, wholesome, substantial food are also served daily, of which they partake at a cost of thirty cents each. MARRIAGE EXTRAORDINARY.—A Mr. Rein, a German by birth, who weighs one hundred and forty, and Miss Hannah J. Duke, the Iowa giantess, weighing five hundred and eighty-five pounds, were married on Friday evening, in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Fourth street, below Arch, Philadelphia. The Siamese twins, Chang and Eng, and other celebrities, composed the bridal party. A large crowd of spectators were present.

SOME weeks since a plain farmer residing about seven miles from Meadville, in the direction of Saegertown, discovered some specimens of ore upon his farm. The specimen of ore which was brought to this place for scientific examination certainly exhibited a piece of pure silver, of considerable size, together with ore of copper and of iron.—Meadville Republican.

AN old gentleman, who has been editor of a central New York paper for thirty years, was "cleaned out" of his railroad passes, and his tooth brush, at Corry, on Saturday, by pickpockets. When questioned in regard to the extent of his loss he replied that his wallet had been taken, but aside from the railroad passes there was nothing in it of value.

WHEN a certain Presbyterian clergyman of Philadelphia, upon whom the degree of D. D. had been conferred, deemed it desirable to gain an additional degree of notoriety by publicly declining the honor, an Indiana paper proposed the adoption of a new degree—"D. D. D.," which, being interpreted, might stand for "Doctor of Divinity Declined."

A COLLISION occurred on the Pennsylvania Railroad, near Marietta, on Tuesday morning. A locomotive, while being taken out the round house at Columbia, was accidently started off up the road, under a full head of steam, and came in contact with the Lancaster train east, smashing both engines, and the baggage car of the down train. Several of the passengers were injured.

GENERAL NEWS.

MEMORIAL CHURCH TO THE PEABODY FAMILY.—George Peabody, the London banker, is to erect a new church edifice in Georgetown, Mass., to accommodate the church and society lately formed in that place, to sustain the faith of their fathers, in opposition to the new divinity there by Rev. Charles Beecher. The church is not only intended to accommodate those who have given up their ancient house of worship, and the fund intended by the donor, Mr. Peabody, for their use, but is also intended as a memorial of several generations of Mr. Peabody's ancestors, who were born and lived, and many of them lie buried in that town. It will unquestionably be one of the finest churches in this country.—Haverhill (Mass.) Gazette.

THE jury in the Brooklyn City Court has returned a verdict of $21,000 in favor of Edwin Whitney proprietor of a boys' boarding school, in Connecticut. Some time since a lad of nine years of age was sent to the school with a view to the improvement of his temper, which, it seems, was rather ungovernable. He wasn't long there before he set fire to the establishment, causing damage to the amount of $12,000. As the boy had $50,000 coming to him in his own right, when of age, Whitney sued the estate and got damages as above stated.

OWING to the excessively cold weather, the telegraph wires have contracted to such an extent as to snap in many cases, where there was not enough slack to allow for the change in condition. In some of the northern and eastern parts of the country the mercury froze in the bulbs, and the temperature could only be ascertained by spirit thermometer, which indicated the astonishingly low stage of forty-three degrees below zero.

THE Treasury Department has been of late annoyed by applications from persons having lost coupons, and ask the department to suspend payment on the same, and transmit them to their legitimate owners. Recognizing the fact coupons are exchanged as money, and that if stolen and in possession of innocent parties such holders would be the losers, the department has decided that in no event will they refuse to cash coupons presented to it for payment.—Washington Chronicle.

THE late Rev. Samuel Fiske, ("Dunn Browne") once prayed in the pulpit "that the Lord would bless the congregation assembled, and that portion of it which was on its way to church, and those who were at home getting ready to come, and that, in His infinite patience, He would grant the benediction to those who reached the House of God just in time for that." By this eccentric method the clergyman succeeded in breaking up a bad habit, which had resisted all legitimate appeals.

AN officer recently returned from Andersonville, Ga., gives some interesting facts connected with that notorious Golgotha. At present there is but a small garrison of about twenty men stationed there, who are guarding the old stockade and cemetery, which are still undisturbed, although numerous threats to burn the stockade have been made by the chivalry of the surrounding country.

MUCH was said during the war about Massachusetts filling up her quota of troops with negroes and foreigners. It now officially appears that out of 131,116 three years' men, furnished by that state to the army and navy, 907 were foreigners, and 6,659 colored troops. The state shows out 13,492 above all calls.

ON the 2d inst., John Hendly was executed at Lawrence, Kansas, for the murder of John Sutton, in June last. He died perfectly resigned, but protested to the last that the act was done in self-defence, and only after Sutton had shot him in the arm. Hendly was a refugee from Mississippi, where he and his wife were hounded almost to death because they refused to join the rebels.

FROM the Cumberland Civilian and Telegraph we learn that considerable excitement prevails concerning the discovery of lead in Allegheny county, Md., and Preston county, W. Va. Several hundred pounds of the metal have already been taken out, affording favorable indications of its quantity and quality. The lands in the vicinity are being rapidly leased.

A YOUNG MAN, at a ball in Detroit, while dancing a schottische with a young lady, fell dead before her feet, which caused a profound sensation among the company, and broke up the ball. Some were disposed to pronounce it it a judgment of God for dancing, but a post mortem examination showed that he died of heart disease.

IT is the pleasing custom of Killimanyaro, in Africa, for the women to do all the trading, and they will not permit a man to make sales in the market place. In some districts of Africa, when the husband is permitted to sell, he is only the factor of his better half.

ON the evening of the 5th inst., H. P. Tuttle, assistant paymaster U. S. Navy, while at the observatory in Washington, discovered a new comet. The jury returned bringing in a verdict of guilty and sentenced him to the State Prison for the term of five years.

THE Tennessee Unionists held a meeting at the Capitol at Nashville on Tuesday night last, when a memorial to Congress was adopted, in addition to the address to the President previously agreed upon, in regard to reconstruction. Documents were prepared containing startling representations of the condition of affairs in the State, and the Unionists prefer a territorial government or a military government rather than the establishment of rebel rule in Tennessee.

THE Secretary of War has ordered the United States Hospital at Jeffersonville, with all of its appurtenances, to be turned over to the State of Indiana, to be used as a Soldiers' Home. Its original cost was over a quarter of a million of dollars. There are a large number of medical stores and supplies on hand, which will also be turned over under the order.

Official information has been received at the Department of State that the examination of passports on the frontiers of the Austrian Empire has been abandoned, and that travelers can now enter, leave or move about in the Austrian dominions without being called upon for their passports.

AN incident occurred at St. Louis on Saturday last illustrating the fact that mules are not only the most sagacious of all four legged animals, but they sometimes do things on purely scientific principles. A drove of about two hundred of these large-minded beasts were brought to the Illinois shore, opposite the city, and it was concluded that the best way to get them across was to start them on the ice and let them walk over. As soon as they reached the ice instinct taught them that they had embarked on a dangerous journey, and instantly the oldest mule in the drove—one, too, that had never been at a circus and had no education—took the lead, and one at a time the whole two hundred "fell in" and followed their leader in single file, with safe spaces between, and thus, stretching themselves into a long line, they crossed the river. The circumstance was witnessed by a number of gentlemen who were impressed with the wonderful illustration of mule sagacity.

DEBATE ON THE NEGRO SUFFRAGE BILL.

Mr. Wilson, of Iowa, brought up the bill for negro suffrage in the District, and made an elaborate speech in its favor which attracted much attention.

Mr. Schofield's speech on the same subject was noticeable for the earnestness with which he went the whole the radical length on the question of suffrage, and for his significant references to Tyler and Filmore, in connection with what had been said of the President's policy.

Judge Kelly quoted the President's Message to show that he was in favor of negro suffrage in Tennessee. He said, of course, therefore, he was in favor of it here, and then added that he was able also to speak authoritatively on the subject, because the President himself had told him so.

In the Senate, Mr. Howe's speech was over two hours in length, and was considered quite able. Timid people, who have, in their ignorance, been afraid of Senator Fessenden's course were especially glad to note that he was throughout an attentive and evidently an approving listener.

They are also empowered to investigate and report upon any delinquencies among revenue officers, and to issue instructions whenever needed.

Among those present were Alex. Reed and W F. Down, of Ohio, and Charles M. Jackson, of Pennsylvania.

Among their other objects in their southern visit, will be an endeavor to find men who can take the oath, to fill the places of assessors and collectors.

JUDGE KELLY'S SPEECH.

Judge Kelly, in his speech to-day, brought out the most authoritative quotation from the Constitutional authorities, yet made in opposition to the President's theory, that the States themselves have exclusive control over the subject of suffrage. In the debates on Constitution, section eight, Debates, third volume, page three hundred and sixty-seven Madison said in reply to a question by Monroe: "Should the people of any state be any means be deprived of the right of of suffrage, it was judged proper that it should be remedied by the General Government. It was found impossible to fix the time place and manner of the election of Representatives in the Constitution. It was found necessary to leave the regulation of these in the first place to the State Governments as being best acquainted with the situation of the people, subject to the control of the General Government, in order to enable it to produce uniformity, and prevent its own dissolution, and considering the State Governments and General Governments as distinct bodies, acting in different and independent capacities for the people. It was thought the particular regulation should be submitted to the former, and the general regulations to the latter. Were they under exclusive control of the State Governments, the General Government might easily be dissolved; but if they be regulated properly by the State Legislatures, the Congressional control will very probably never be exercised. The power appears to me satisfactory and as unlikely to be abused as any part of the Constitution."

This quotation produced a decided sensation in the House.

STATEMENT OF TREASURY EXPENDITURES.

The following statement exhibits the gross expenditures of the Treasury, for the quarter ending December 31st, 1865: War Department, $72,785,665 48. Navy Department, $15,985,773 11. Loans, $185,692,960 86. Interior, Indians, and Pensions, $2,578,116 79. Treasury and Customs, $2,834,008 14. Treasury and Interior, $918,663 09. Treasury Proper, $3,883,481 91. Internal Revenue, $170,484 42. Diplomatic, $388,487 84. Salaries, $118,577 50. Total, $286,989,824,914.

The repayments made during the same period will decrease the above sum considerably, amounting in the War, Navy and Interior Departments, which are the heaviest, to upwards of twenty million.

SECRETARY STANTON.

Secretary Stanton, who scarcely ever appear at the Capitol, was on the floor of the House to-day.

TROOPS RETAINED IN VIRGINIA.

The order of the War Department countermanding the muster out of the troops in Virginia—referred to in these dispatches yesterday—was again countermanded by order of the President; so all white troops now on duty in that State will be immediately mustered out. It is known that General Terry earnestly represented the continued necessity for the presence of all the troops now on duty in Virginia.

AGRICULTURAL COMMISSION TO VISIT THE SOUTH.

A commission composed of several of the most eminent agriculturists of the country will leave here to-morrow on a tour through the Southern States for the purpose of examining and reporting on the agricultural condition of the South. UNION CAUCUS.

A caucus of the Union members of the House was held this evening at the Capitol. The principal matter discussed was Judge Kelly's District of Columbia Negro-Suffrage bill, which is now before the House. On the question as to whether it would be policy to press the bill to a vote and pass it, the motion was lost.

A committee was appointed to report a new bill revising the Election laws in the District of Columbia, prescribing certain qualifications for all the voters in the District. A committee of nine men was also appointed to report the result of the meeting to-night to that to be held on Tuesday next. The probabilities are that they may have something to submit from the Reconstruction Committee. Three Union members were also added to the Judiciary Committee, viz.: A. Jenks, of Rhode Island, BANKS, of Massachusetts, and Hall, of New York.

The object of the caucus which was called at the instance of Thad. Stevens and other members was to secure harmony and unity of action among the Union members in the vital questions now before the House.

COTTON FRAUDS IN FLORIDA.

Details of the Adams Express Robbery.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The Florida Times of the 28th ult. says it is currently reported that the military authorities at Lake City have discovered heavy cotton frauds, seriously implicating a person or persons high in authority, but action is withheld on account of their position.

Petitions are being circulated favoring the amendment of the pension laws, so as to equalize the pensions of officers and privates and their respective families, making them uniformly the same without regard to previous rank.

The New Haven papers this afternoon contain particulars of the robbery of Adams' Express on Saturday evening. Three men called at the hotels in Stamford, and registered their names—two of them as Lockwood, the other as Clark. Their acting toward each other at first was that of strangers, and no one supposed they were acquaintances. They endeavored to hire a carriage to Norwalk, but were unable to do so. After their failure to obtain the carriage, they were seen to converse as if acquainted, and their manner excited suspicion.

They remained all night at Stamford, and the next morning took the train for Norwalk. On arriving at Norwalk they hired a conveyance and went upon the top of the hill back of the village to an old shoemaker's named Tristam, who is an uncle of Clarke's. Here they stopped over night and returned to the village on Monday morning. The old man, Tristam, came down with a bundle, which appeared to be heavy, and which he refused to have checked, and was also scrupulously careful to keep it in his hands all the while, on his way to New York, where he took it.

Suspicion having fallen upon him, word was sent to New York, and Tristam was arrested, but not till after he had disposed of his bundle. Tristam's house was searched and the two Dockwoods were arrested, but the one who called himself Clark, has escaped. When Tristam came to New York, he left a bag containing gold and some currency with a man in Division street, who has been arrested. The whole sum recovered is $258,000 in currency value. Some burglars' tools, a gold watch that was in one of the safes, and other property, was found in the possession of the men arrested at Tristam's house.

Freedmen's Affairs in Louisiana and Mississippi.

Proposals to Build Important Levees.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 9.—President Juarez and General Negrete arrived at San Antonio from Elpaso, on the 1st inst.

The Galveston Bulletin notices a number of troops passing en route to the Rio Grande.

There is a general decline in dry goods and groceries at Galveston and Houston. Cotton, especially superior grades, advanced.

Bishop Gregg, of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas, arrived here en route for the North on Church matters.

Accounts from the Louisiana country papers represent the freedmen as indisposed to contract, refusing to make any agreement except near towns, expecting something extraordinary to turn up. In the parish of St. James, since the 1st, work has stopped entirely on several large plantations from this cause. There is some complaint in other parishes. A number of the principal planters of the Attakokas emigrated a few days since to Belisse Honduras.

General Humphreys, United States Engineer advertises for proposals to build a number of important levees on the Mississippi in this State and Mississippi, to be done by the middle of March next, and to be paid for in cash by the Government.

Encouraging reports have been received from Mississippi as to the behavior of the freedmen and their willingness to make contracts.

The colored troops are fast leaving the places lately garrisoned by them on the levees.

DISCHARGE OF DETECTIVE FORCE.

TRIALS FOR TREASON.

Secretary Stanton on Jeff. Davis' Case.

OPINION OF ATTORNEY GEN'L SPEED.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A dispatch from Washington says the muster out of Gen. L. C. Baker, Chief of the detective force of the War Department will be followed by the breaking up of the Bureau, and the discharge of all its employees within a few days.

Gen. Mulford, United States Agent for the exchange of prisoners, has been ordered by the Secretary of War to turn over all moneys and other property in his possession belonging to either Federal or Confederate prisoners of war, to Major General Hitchcock, Commissary General of Prisoners.

The President, to-day, transmitted to the Senate, a message in reply to the resolution, calling upon him to inform that body upon what charges Jefferson Davis is confined, and why he is not brought to a trial. The President encloses reports from the Secretary of War, and the Attorney General, and at the same time invites the attention of the Senate to that portion of his annual message, which refers to Congress the question of the holding of the Circuit Courts of the United States, within the districts where their authority has been interrupted.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, January, 4th, 1866.

SIR: In answer, to the annexed resolution, passed by the Senate on the 21st day of November, 1865, referred to me by you for report, I have the honor to state first, that Jefferson Davis was captured by the United States troops, in the State of Georgia, on or about the 10th day of May, 1865, and by order of this Department has been and now is confined in Fortress Monroe, to abide such action as may taken by the proper authorities of the United States Government.

Second, That he has not been arraigned upon any indictment or formal charge of crime, but indicted for the crime of high treason by the Grand Jury of the District of Columbia, which indictment is now pending in the Supreme Court of said District. He is also charged with the crime of inciting the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, and with the murder of Union prisoners of war by starvation and other barbarous and cruel treatment towards them.

Third, The President deeming it expedient that Jeff. Davis should first be put upon his trial before a competent court and jury for the crime of treason, he was advised by the law officer of the Government that the most proper place for such a trial was in the State of Virginia. That State is within the judicial circuit assigned to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court who has held no court since the apprehension of Davis, and who declines for an indefinite period to hold any court there. The matters above stated are, so far as I am informed, the reasons for holding Davis in confinement, why he has not been brought to trial, &c.

Fourth, Besides Jeff. Davis, the following persons who acted as officers of the rebel government are imprisoned, to-wit: Clement C. Clay, at Fortress Monroe, charged among other things, with treason, with complicity in the murder of Mr. Lincoln, and organizing bands of pirates, robbers and murderers in Canada to burn cities and ravage the commerce and coasts of the loyal States on the British frontier; D. L. Yulee, at Fort Pulaski, charged with treason, while holding a seat in the Senate of the United States, and with plotting the capture of forts and armories of the United States and with inciting war against the Government; S. R. Mallory, at Fort Lafayette, charged with treason, and organizing and setting on foot piratical expeditions against United States commerce and marine on the high seas.

The other officers of the so-called Confederate Government, arrested and imprisoned, have been released on parole to abide the action of the Government in reference to their position and trial for alleged offences on their application for amnesty and pardon. Among these are G. A. Trenholm, Secretary of the Treasury; John A. Campbell, Assistant Secretary of War; James A. Seddon, Secretary of War; John H. Reagan, Postmaster General; R. M. T. Hunter, Senator; Alexander H. Stevens, Vice President, and sundry other persons of less note.

EDWIN M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.

ATT'Y GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Jan. 4, 1866.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt from you of a copy of a resolution of the Senate of the United States of the 21st of December, 1865. In that resolution the Senate respectfully requests to be informed upon what charges Jeff. Davis is still held in confinement, and why he has not been put upon his trial.

When the war was at its crisis Jeff. Davis, the Commander-in-Chief of the army of the insurgents, was taken prisoner with other prominent rebels by the military forces of the United States. It was the duty of the military so to take them. They have been heretofore, and are yet, held as prisoners of war. Though active hostilities have ceased, a state of war still exists in the territory in rebellion. Until peace shall come in fact, and in law, they can rightfully be held as prisoners of war.

I have ever thought that trials for high treason cannot be had before a military tribunal. The civil courts have alone jurisdiction of that crime. The question then arises when and where must the trials thereof be held. In that clause of the Constitution mentioned in the resolution of the Senate, it is plainly written they must be held in the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed.

I know many persons of learning and ability entertain the opinion that the Commander-in-Chief of the rebel armies would be regarded as constitutionally present with the insurgents who prosecuted hostilities and made war upon the Northern and Southern borders of the loyal States. This doctrine of constructive presence, carried to its logical consequence, would make all who had been convicted with the rebel armies liable to trial in any State and District into which any portion of those armies had made the slightest incursion. Not being persuaded of the correctness of that opinion, but regarding the doctrine maintained as, at least, of verp doubtful constitutionality, I have thought it not proper to advise you to cause criminal proceedin s to be instituted against Jefferson Davis or against any other insurgent in the States or Districts in which they were not actually present during the prosecution of hostilities. Some prominent rebels were personally present at the invasion of Maryland and Pennsylvania, but all, or nearly all of them received military paroles, upon the surrender of the rebel armies, while I think that those parties have no ultimate protection, for prosecution for high treason, I have thought that it would be a violation of the paroles to prosecute those persons for crimes before the political power of the government has proclaimed that the rebellion has been suppressed. It follows from what I have said, that I am of the opinion that Jeff. Davis, and others of the insurgents ought to be tried in some one of the States or Districts in which they in person, especially committed the crimes with which they may b char ged.

Though active hostility and flagrant war have not for some time existed between the United States and the insurgents, peaceful relations between the Government and the people in the States and Districts in rebellion, have not yet been fully restored. None of the Justices of the Supreme Court have held circuit courts in those circuits and districts since actual hostilities ceased. When the courts are open and all the laws can be peacefully administered and enforced in those States whose people rebelled against the government, when this peace shall have come in fact and in law, the persons now held in military custody as prisoners of war and who may not have been tried and convicted for offences against the laws of war, should be transferred to the custody of the civil authorities of the proper districts to be tried for such high crimes and misdemeanors as may be alleged against them.

I think it will be the plain duty of the President to cause criminal prosecutions to be instituted before the proper tribunal, and shall, at proper times, against some of those who were mainly instrumental in inaugurating, and most conspicuous in conducting the late hospitalities.

I should regard it as a direful calamity. If many whom the sword has spared, the law should spare also, but I would deem it a more direful calamity still, if the Executive in performing his constitutional duty, of bringing those persons before the bar of justice to answer for their crimes, should violate the plain meaning of the Constitution, or infringe in the least particular the living spirit of that instrument.

I have the honor to be, most respectfully,
JAMES SPEED, Att'y Gen.

THE MEXICAN QUESTION.

Papers Communicated to the Senate.

SECRET DESIGNS OF THE EMPIRE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—A resolution passed the House to-day, requesting the Committee of Ways and Means to inquire into the expediency of lessening import duties on cotton fabrics, and that they report by bill or otherwise. Voluminous papers relative to rebel emigration to Mexico, and the scheme of Gwinn and Maury were presented to the Senate to-day.

Senor Romero first calls the attention of Mr. Seward July 9th, 1864, to the address of Gen. Magruder and Governor Vidauri's reply, showing the understanding between the traitors in Mexico and insurgents in the United States. He intimates that the French Minister to Mexico, M. Montholon, was looking to that end, and that armed emigration from the Atlantic States and from California was in immediate contemplation.

Under date of February 6, 1865, he further notified the Secretary of his understanding that a settlement had been proposed by Napoleon, by virtue of which the Mexican States of Tamaulipas, New Leon and Coahuila with the ports of San Luis, Potosi, Acetos, Durango and Chihuahua and almost the whole of Sonora and the Peninsula of Lower California to be ceded to France; and that to make so considerable a concession of Mexican territory acceptable, the Emperor would plant there a military colony which would shelter the remainder of the country from fillibustering attacks from the United States.

This arrangement, he protests against, reminding the Secretary of a fact slightly resembling the present, when the representatives of the French Government in Mexico protested against the treaty concluded between Mexico and the United States, of much less importance than the present, only because of a vague rumor more or less well founded, that it had been concluded, and before they had official notice of its execution.

Mr. Seward replies, under date of February 25th, 1865, that a protest has been placed on file as testimony to the course of Mr. Romero.

On the 20th of April, Mr. Romero communicated to Mr. Seward the correspondence between the rebel Gen. Slaughter and the Mexican Gen. Mejia, relative to the capture of the Mexican steamer Orizaba, as an additional proof of the identity of the political interest which exists between the insurgents of this country and the partisans of the French cause in Mexico.

In a communication dated July 4th, Romero adduces further evidence of Mexican complicity with the rebels, and states that the commander of the post of Bagdad informed Gen. Slaughter as follows:

He had secret instructions to permit the introduction of arms and munitions of war that might be desired, and that they should pass freely for the use of the confederacy. He also asserts that there was in Monterey an agent of the confederacy accredited to agents of the French, and that Gen. Mejia had promised Gen. Slaughter that he would do everything he could in his favor. He also shows that the trade the Confederate States were carrying on with Mexico, and other countries through the ports of Mexico was carried on with the consent of the French in Mexico.

To all these statements Mr. Seward promises to give the attention to which they are entitled.

On July 8th Mr. Romero communicates statements and letters relating to the schemes of Mr. Wm. Gwinn for organizing a colony in Mexico, and showing that Gen. Bazaine had authority to lend him all needed assistance.

Gwinn writes after the surrender of Lee: "Among the intercepted letters, is one from Massey to Benj. Wood, New York, in which he says Soule is in the Gwinn enterprise, and the French Emperor will give him all the aid he desires, and that he will go out as Director General in charge of a peculiar kind of colonization."

Mr Seward writes to Minister Bigelow, July 13th, enclosing those intercepted letters in relation to Mexican colonization, and requests him to present them to M. Drouyn De L'Huys, and frankly informs him that the sympathies of the Mexican people are already considerably excited in favor of the Republic of Mexico, and they are disposed to regard with impatience continued intervention of France in the country, that any favor shown to the proceedings of Dr. Gwinn of the Emperor of Mexico, or the government will tend greatly to increase the popular impatience.

The President, to-day, also sent to the Senate a message in compliance with the resolution respecting the occupancy, by the French troops, of the Republic of Mexico, and the reestablishment of a monarchy there, enclosing a report from the Secretary of State, and the documents by which it was accompanied. The documents are very voluminous, commencing as far back as March 25, 1864, and ending with December 1, 1865.

The first is a letter from Mr. Dayton to Mr. Seward, communicating the fact that negotiation for a loan, in behalf of Maximilian as Emperor of Mexico, had been completed on favorable terms, and that he would soon sail for Mexico.

Mr. Seward, in a letter to Mr. Bigelow, dated September 6, 1865, says: The intense popular interest awakened by the civil war during the few years, has tended, in some degree, to moderate the solicitude which the situation of foreign affairs was calculated to create, but that interest is now rapidly subsiding, and it may be reasonably anticipated that henceforth Congress and the people will give a large share of attention to questions of an extraneous character.

Chief among these is that of our relations towards France with regard to Mexico. Nor does it seem unwise to take into consideration the fact that the presence of the military force of the two nations, sometimes confronting each other across the border, has a tendency which both regret to produce irritation. The French Government has not shown itself inattentive to this inconvenience hitherto, while this Government has been desirous to practice equal prudence.

The dispatch includes letters from the French Legation with reference to the Mexican refugees in New York and Wasington, preparing a movement in favor of Juarez; the first as far back as July, 1865.

A PERIL AVERTED.

Every thoughtful observer of affairs in the United States during the late war was impressed with the conviction that, while the return of peace would change the form of the public peril, it would not, for a considerable space, at least, materially diminish it. It was apparent that while the war would settle all those questions of which force was the immediate solvent, there would still remain, after the storm of battle should cease, many delicate and difficult questions, demanding adjustment by Congress or the Courts.

As the rebellion began to collapse it became manifest that the democrats would expend an immense amount of skill, cunning and perseverance in endeavoring so to reorganize their party in both the great geographical divisions of the country as to draw the conservatives out of the Republican or Union ranks and into theirs. What was anticipated actually happened.

The first scene in this drama was designed to be the admission to seats in the two Houses of Congress of the men chosen to represent the States lately in revolt against the government. A few of these men are sufficiently acceptible to all loyal men, but nineteen out of every twenty of them were leaders in the gigantic conspiracy; are now pretty well imbued with the ideas and sentiments in which the conspiracy originated, and, though beaten on the battle field, have not relinquished but only postponed their plans. A large majority of these men were either officers of high rank in the rebel armies or members of the Confederate Congress. So steeped in treason are they that they cannot honestly take the oath prescribed by law for membership. It may be that the most objectionable of them would be the most willing to take the oath. They have a theory about the sanctity of oaths, and a practice under that theory, which is not to be commended. Holding seats in Congress, or commissions in the army or navy, with oaths recorded to support the Constitution, and bear true fealty to the government they did not hesitate to plot and execute treason. They could swear in again as readily as, in defiance of their oaths, they went out.

Upon their admission they would naturally seek a close fraternization with the democrats and conservative republicans. Nothing is more desirable than concord between the people of the North and those of the South. But such concord, to escape the imputation, not of weakness, but of criminality, must have its origin far down among those foundation rocks of society where the roots of Patriotism, Liberty and Religion not only interlock but become one and inseparable.

Which of these three factions would draw others to it, and knead them into part and parcel of its own lump? The democrats were with the secessionists, in doctrine and sympathy before the war broke out; were with them all through the war; and are with them now. For full communion in the secession church, they neither require conversion nor recovery from a lapsed condition. Their leaders wanted to go into the secession movement, and so accomplish, not a separation, but such a revolution as would make an end substantially of government by the people. That majestic uprising of the masses which was witnessed when the tocsin of war rang through the North, abashed their traitorous insolence, but did not alter their desires. For four years they covered their political deformities, as gay women do their charms, with a gauzy drapery that more revealed than veiled what was beneath it. With herculean might and machiavelian duplicity they labored so to corrupt their followers as to prevail on them to inaugurate war at the North. They actually brought on an outbreak in the city of New York, and were disappointed that a flame of revolt, like fire on a prairie, did not move on in constantly broadening eddies until it had swept the East, the North and the West.

What principles would the Conservatives care to stipulate for? Alas! like owls and other obscure birds they love the twilight, and hoot and twitter at everything that gives token of disturbing the congenial gloom. As their progenitors, through all the ages, have crucified every Messiah sent to the human race, they are most likely to hold fast to the traditions of their caste.

With such a combination of elements coalescing for the formation of a new party, there would be no hope that it would seek to promote Justice and Equity. If it should be actualized, and become ascendant, a blight would fall on the budding hopes and blossoming rights of the four millions of men and women from whose hands the chains of slavery have fallen. The faith of the nation, solemnly plighted to the liberated bondmen in the face of the nations, would be broken. The rights and interests of free labor would be sacrificed. The shadow on the dial of civilization would go backward.

This great peril, which seemed imminent a few weeks ago, now appears to be passing away. A conspiracy detected and exposed, is commonly a conspiracy baffled. In the present instance, this is true with an emphasis.

STRANGE!

Mr. Voorhees, the most detested copperhead in Indiana, professes to have suddenly conceived a violent liking for President Johnson. To give some expression to it he, on Tuesday last, introduced a resolution into the House of Representatives, pledging himself, all his brother copperheads, and every body else, to support the President and his policy.

Considering who Mr. Voorhees is, and what has been his course all through the war, in giving aid and comfort to the rebels; considering who President Johnson is, and how manfully he stood by the Old Flag all through the great contest; we suspect that the President, when he heard what Voorhees had been doing in the House, began to question with himself—"What evil have I done that this man speaketh well of me?"

We are not surprised that Conservative newspapers are in raptures over Voorhees. The only thing that surprises us is that they did not join hands with him four years ago!

The resolution of Mr. Williams, of Pennsylvania, which passed to-day, is a specimen of the manner in which some of the radical gentlemen evince their anxiety to avoid a conflict. It proposes, as the sense of the House, that the maintenance of the authority of the government and the protection of loyal citizens at the South, demand that the military forces now in the Southern States shall not be withdrawn until Congress shall have ascertained and report that it can be safely done. This is a direct interference with the constitutional prerogative of the President, as Commander-in-Chief.—N. Y. Times.

It may be a highly conservative conception that the President has as absolute and unqualified an authority over the armies of the United States as the Czar has over those of Russia, but that conception is neither republican nor is it true. Congress has much more to do with the armies than simply to provide the moneys for paying the expenses of maintaining them. The House moreover, has pronounced its judgment and that judgment has been respected.

THE SITUATION.

People talk and newspapers print about the Policy of the President, and the Policy of Congress, but there is a lack of clear definition as to what is the peculiarity of each of these Policies, wherein they agree and wherein they differ.

The President, as we understand him, holds that none of the States have been out of the Union, and, consequently, are entitled to have their Representatives admitted to the two Houses of Congress, fully, cordially and promptly. This is his policy.

The policy of Congress differs from this in that it exacts conditions, against the repudiation of the National Debt, against the assumption of the rebel debt, and against the oppression of the freedmen by revengeful statutes intended to punish them for the fidelity with which they stood by the Union. There are diversities of opinion as to the precise form to be given to these conditions so as to make them effective and permanent. It is true, moreover, that some members of Congress would be content with much less than this, while some are disposed to exact a good deal more. But the average of Congressional opinion is correctly represented above.

The point of agreement between these two Policies is that they both look to the speedy and permanent restoration of the Union, and to the equal participation of the Southern Senators and Representatives in the proceedings of Congress.

The point of dissimilarity is, that the President would admit the Southern members at once, and without further guaranties; while Congress would admit them just as soon as certain guaranties shall be given.

We do not understand that the President is opposed to the guaranties demanded by Congress, but that he insists on the right of the Southern States to be represented without giving them. It is strongly probable that the President would approve of the guaranties required if they should be promptly prescribed, so as to be ratified without great delay.

It is reasonable to suppose, therefore, that the Reconstruction Committee will make up its Report with all practicable expedition, and that it will not embrace any points likely to lead to a breach between the Executive and Legislative Departments.

THE NEW PARTY.

For some months past a movement has been in private negotiation for the formation of a new political party which should combine the rebel element at the South with the democratic and conservative elements at the North. With this combination secured, it has been thought practicable to capture or seduce the administration into co-operation with it. This accomplished, the new party would be fairly set up in business, and would proceed to use all its advantages for the perpetuation of its power.

This is the explanation of that concerted assault, by both the northern democrats and conservatives upon the authority of Congress, as the law-making department, over the reconstruction of the revolted States. It explains, moreover, the tardiness of the conservatives in participating in local elections, and the covert suggestions in which they have from time to time indulged, that party obligations were not as imperative this year as formerly. The design has been to prepare the way for a great and fatal defection which should restore the pro-slavery regime to its old authority.

The first public demonstration to this end was made yesterday, in the House of Representatives, by Mr. Daniel W. Voorhies, of Indiana. It does not seem to have been a success. That sturdy Republican, Mr. John A. Bingham, of Ohio, poured a whole broadside into this new piratical venture, and virtually sunk it, amid the applause of the members and the multitudinous spectators in the gallery.

The plot was a pretty one; not original, for it has been tried twice before; but it apparently held hout inducements superior to either of the others. It is a failure. It is "a dead cock in the pit;" and its owners and backers may as well take it out of sight.

THE OHIO SENATORSHIP.

An animated discussion is progressing in Ohio touching the election of an United States Senators in place of Mr. John Sherman, whose term of service will expire on the fourth of next March. Nearly all the republican journals in the State are sharing in this discussion, and while it is marked by uncommon earnestness, it is courteous. The principal contestants for the place are Mr. Sherman, Gen. Schenck, and Mr. Bingham. So far the balance appears to be about even.

Freedmen of Wheeling.—Mr. Robert Campbell, of Wheeling, Va., is on a visit to Pittsburgh and vicinity for the purpose of soliciting contributions to aid in buying a building to be used as a place of worship and for holding Sabbath and common schools for the benefit of the Freedmen of that town. His testimonials as to his character and mission are ample, and the object in which is engaged is one that appeals equally to Christians and patriots.

The dispatches from Washington, as given in the Commercial of yesterday, state that Mr. Voorhees' rosolution, endorsing the President's policy, was carried by 133 to 37. The resolution was carried—to the Reconstruction Committee, by that vote, and not adopted, as the intelligence given by the Commercial would seem to imply.

A Halt Called.—Mr. William's resolution has had the effect he desired. The emphatic voice of the House has been heeded. Orders have been issued stopping the mustering out of regiments in service in the revolted States.

AFFAIRS IN THE SOUTH.

We find the following in the Washington Chronicle:

"'We are submitting to your rule,' said one of the pardoned Southerners, a few days ago, in conversation with an American Senator, 'but you must take care that you do not make a Poland or an Ireland of the South.' Neither the point nor the threat was new, but the grumbler was taken aback when a bystander remarked, with peculiar emphasis: 'You forget, my dear Sir, when you make the comparison, the vast difference between the countries you refer to, and the fair and fertile land in which you live. Nobody emigrates to Ireland or to Poland, while millions are preparing to move in and to ocupy the redeemed and regenerated Southern communities.'"

An old and highly respected citizen of southern Michigan, who has just returned from a visit to Hornson's Landing, Va., to secure the remains of a brave boy who fell in the war for the Union, writes to add his personal testimony to the accuracy of the views of the Advertiser and Tribune, as to the opinion of the Souther people and the party reconstruction to which they have been subjected. Our friend found the people sullen and revengeful, intensely incensed against the negroes, and with no true national feeling, and naturally thinks as matters now stand, they well make very unreliable sovereigns for a free State.—Detroit Tribune.

A Cincinnati Merchant, on a trip down the Mississippi River, writes home that the outcry about the disorganization of labor, and the unwillingness of the negroes to work, is caused by cotton planters and speculators, who want to frighten away others from the business in order to augment their own profits. Nevertheless, Northern men are rushing in, and there will be a great cotton crop next year.

Evidently the work of reconstruction in Virginia is about completed. The old normal state of affairs has returned. The editors have begun firing pistols at each other. The conservative editor, who spells music with a k final, and two of his rivals, have evidently returned to the ground they used to occupy in the Union. Who says they ought not to be represented at once on the floor of Congress?—Providence Jour.

Testimony to the good conduct of the freedmen during and after the war, in their relations to their old masters, has been signed and sealed by all the Provisional Governors, if not the Governors elect of the South, and, not least, by several religious conventions. On this point the favorable public opinion of the South ought to be in a vast majority.

We quote the following editorial paragraph from the Louisville Democrat:

> It would be hard even for a white man, under the flush of new-found rights or liberties, to behave as well. The negroes have done very well during the war, and since the war. They have, in fact behaved much better than the white men. No such temptations could be laid before any other race or people without producing horrors and savagery beyond parlell.

The old Portage Iron Works, at Duncansville, Huntingdon county, were put in operation last week, under the management of Mr. Musselman, who recently purchased them.

RAILROAD NEWS.

The decrease in railway earnings which has recently been exhibited in the December returns is the more significant on account of the open winter, and the consequent late period of the close of navigation. Had navigation closed earlier than usual, the roads leading from the West to lake ports would have suffered in a comparison, from very obvious and simple causes. In the present case, however, the fact of decreased earnings is remarkable, and leads to the belief that we are entering upon a period during which our railways are to undergo for a time a period of diminishing prosperity, if not of absolute adversity. For nearly four years we have witnessed a constant and large increase of traffic over every line of road in the North, and especially on lines running east and west. So great has been the pressure of business that scarcely any of the roads could furnish equipment and motive power sufficient to keep pace with the growing traffic.

One great cause of this was the closing of the Southern Markets and the obstructed navigation of the Mississippi River. The opening of the river while chaos reigned at the South had but little effect; but now that business has been somewhat restored, and is seeking its natural and most available outlets, we must expect to see a very large diversion of freight business from our East and West Railway lines to the Mississippi River. This is not conjectural; it is as certain as any mathematical demonstration can be.

Another cause of diminished railway earnings may be found in the cessation of Government business, which, in the transportation of troops, of cattle, provisions, and munitions of war, gave to our railways a very large and lucrative trade. For these reasons, which to us seems well founded, we anticipate in the present year a large decline in the gross and net earnings of railways; and while believing that eventually these troubles will be removed by progress and development, we hold it to be wise to admit facts palpable and self-evident. —New York Tribune.

The Air Line Railroad bill introduced into Congress sets forth that the necessities of the Government require a national military and and postal railroad between the cities of Washington and New York. Among the corporators named are Alex. T. Stewart, Henry G. Stebbins, Marshal O. Roberts, Alexander S. Diven, C. G. Miller, R. B. Minturn, D. Headly, Charles A. Secor, Dean Richmond, H. B. Claflin and William B. Duncan, of New York; Judson Kilpatrick and Marcus L. Ward, of New Jersey; a large number of persons from Pennsylvania, and George A. Riggs and H. K. Cooke, of the District of Columbia. B. F. Newcombe and Geo. F. Small, of Maryland. The second section authorizes the company, in the name and behalf of the United States, to survey, locate, lay out, construct, equip, maintain, operate, use, collect toll upon, and enjoy a continuous line of railway, with one or more tracks between the cities of Washington and New York. The engineer is to be appointed by the corporation, but to be approved by the Secretary of the Interior. The route is to be through the States of Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, first-class passengers are to be carried at three cents a mile, and the road is to cross the Susquehanna River above tide-water.

We learn that the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad and the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad Companies have entered into the following arrangements: The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company is to lay down an additional rail to make a six feet guage over its line and branches, and the Atlantic and Great Western is to lay down an additional rail from Milton to connect with its road so as to receive the traffic passing over the respective roads. By this means a connection will be made with Philadelphia as well as New York. One of the conditions of the arrangement is the establishment of a line of steamships immediately, between Philadelphia and Liverpool. This is an important arrangement, if the rumor is correct.—Pottsville Mining Journal.

A Loving Spirit.—A new hotel was opened with great pomp in New Orleans, a short time since. Last week an army officer took quarters there. During the evening he had occasion to summon a waiter. After ringing three times without answer, he went into the hall and asked the negro servant what was the matter. The black told him orders had been given not to wait on the Yankees. He then went to the office with his complaint, and was told that what he had heard was true; the house did not seek or desire patronage from Northern gentlemen. The Provost Marshal was informed of the case and got the same answer. The letter which states these facts, says that the hotel is crowded with Southerners, who occupy themselves in denouncing the "Yankee Government," and talking treason. If it were to be closed by an application of the military power still required to watch our "misguided brethren" in Louisiana, the ends of substantial justice would be attained.—Albany Evening Journal.

Strong Feeling for Modified Suffrage.

The idea is rapidly gaining ground that nothing is so sure to protect the blacks of the South in their rights as to make it the interest of the whites to give them modified suffrage. A distinguished Senator, who has heretofore resisted this idea, now unhesitatingly declares that this Government must either provide a country where the colored people may be colonized, and where they can enjoy all their civil and political rights, or that some plan must be adopted by which they can be clothed with a sufficient political power to protect themselves against the overwhelming influence of their recent tyrants.—Wash. Cor. Phila. Press.

Emigrant Travel.—The number of emigrants who passed westward over the Pennsylvania Railroad during each month of the year 1865, was as follows:

January	703	August	3,609
February	875	September	3,482
March	1,593	October	2,417
April	1,804	November	3,149

EDUCATION IN ILLINOIS.—The State Educational Convention of Illinois, held at Joliet last week, on motion of the State Superintendent, adopted unanimously a resolution in favor of the Bureau of Education proposed by Mr. Donnelly, and called upon their Representatives in Congress to sustain such a measure, and appointed the President of the State Normal University to confer with the educational conventions of other States. Similar resolutions have been adopted unanimously in the educational conventions of Michigan and Indiana. A National Educational Convention to meet in Washington is talked of, to take action in reference to popular education in the Southern States.

THE Philadelphia Inquirer says that measures are in progress in that city to erect a fitting memorial to the late Bishop Potter. The contributions are to take the form of a thank offering for the restoration of peace and the "great enlargement of civil liberty," and a building is to be erected having, in the language of Bishop Stevens' pastoral letter to his clergy and laity, "as its central feature, a large chapel for the free preaching of the word of God; and connected with it, the needed rooms and offices for all diocesan purposes, and for the use of the various church societies; constituting in its unity, a noble diocesan house, worthy to be the memorial tribute of a great diocese to a great and beloved Bishop."

THE Knoxville Whig relates the following incident: A gentleman of this city had occasion a short time since to send a messenger to Atlanta on a matter of business. The man who went had served three years in the Federal army, and was of that hated class known as East Tennessee Unionists. He was at once met by some rebels who left this place on account of their offensive course of conduct, and notified that they allowed him one hour to leave in, and taking them at their word he returned to Tennessee.

LOSS BY FAILURE OF APPLE BUYERS.—The Rochester, N. Y. Union says: "It may appear to some people as though we had exaggerated the losses to farmers in this vicinity by the failure of heavy buyers of apples last fall. But we have not, and the sum total grows day by day as those who, at first said nothing about their losses, hoping to get their pay, make their reports. We are told on good authority that the farmers in the town of Greece, in this county, suffer to the amount of $100,00 and over."

A WRITER in the Chicago Tribune urges steam communication with the South from that city. He says grain can be loaded there in canal boats and be taken to Richmond, Va., without breaking bulk, by being towed down the Illinois and Mississippi, up the Ohio and Kanawha, and through the canal to Richmond, thus gaining a communication with the ocean, and escaping the high prices demanded by the Eastern shippers.

ILLINOIS has 2,250,000 inhabitants by her late census—an increase of 539,000 since 1860, though she meantime sent 256,000 men to the War. The Chicago Tribune thinks she will in 1870 be the third State in the Union, having passed Ohio, as Chicago (it is presumed) will then have passed Cincinnati. To fill this programme, Illinois must have in that year not less than 3,000,000 inhabitants and Chicago at least 300,000.

THE wheat yield of Minnesota is said to be unprecedented, it averaging twenty-seven bushels to the acre, and the entire crop being estimated at twelve million bushels, which is forty-eight bushels to each inhabitant—man, woman and child—of the whole State. Wheat is the principal agricultural production of Minnesota; but extensive crops of corn, barley, oats and potatoes are also grown.

IT IS proposed to extend the Illinois and Michigan Canal from La Salle to a point on the Mississippi opposite Davenport, Iowa, and the line has already been partially surveyed. This canal will not only bring to Chicago the products of Iowa, but by this route the grain shipped for Minnesota and Western Wisconsin can be carried cheaper than by any railroad route.

THE last anecdote of the late King of the Belgians is by no less a person than William Cornell Jewett, who says that when he went to Europe on his "independent peace mission," he requested King Leopold to act as umpire between our government and the rebels, and that the astute monarch replied that "he would not put his fingers between the bark and the tree."

THE number of railroad accidents in this country during the past year was one hundred and eighty-three, against one hundred and forty the year previous. The fatality, however, was in favor of 1865, the number of lives lost during the year being three hundred and thirty-five against four hundred and four in 1864.

THE Fifth Avenue Hotel pays $80,000 rent; the St. Nicholas and Metropolitan $70,000 each; the Astor and New York $60,000 each; and the Everett $40,00. A. T. Stewart owns the Metropolitan and the St. Nicholas, and William B. Astor owns the Astor House.

AN EXAMPLE FOR NEWSBOYS.—The Springfield Republican says in the winter of 1855 there were eight carrier boys employed to distribute that paper in Springfield. Three of these boys are now cashiers of banks in or near Springfield.

THE Assessor of Internal Revenue for the third district of Georgia has written to the Secretary of the Treasury saying that, in consequence of the test oath, he has much trouble in finding competent assistants.

BOTH Delaware and Schylkill rivers are now locked in ice. That upon the latter stream is worth cutting even now, while in the Delaware the ice is thick and formidable.

DEATHS in Boston the past week numbered 67—males, 36, females, 31—of whom 23 were children under five years of age.

HON. GEORGE BANCROFT has been definitely selected to deliver the eulogy on President Lincoln, in February next.

THE Tennessee and Alabama Railroad has been repaired, and re-opens for trade.

THE Andersonville prison-pen is now guarded by a garrison of twenty men.

IN Baltimore, during the past year, 710 permits for new buildings were issued.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

THE BOUNTY BILL.—Among the many bills and resolutions which were introduced to-day was a bill by Charles O'Neill, referred to the Committee on Invalid Pensions, an act granting bounty and additional bounty to soldiers, seamen and marines in the war of 1861, or their heirs, providing for those who entered the service on or after the 13th day of April, 1861, and previous to the 9th day of April, 1865, for more than one year, a bounty of three hundred dollars, deducting any amount they may have heretofore received. Those who entered previous to the 13th day of April, 1861, three hundred dollars. Those who entered between the 13th day of April, 1861, and the 9th of April, 1865, for a period of less than one year, a bounty of one hundred dollars. Those who re-enlisted shall not have deducted from the bounty provided for by this act any bounty received for a prior enlistment. Those who entered as privates or non-commissioned officers, and were subsequently promoted to be commissioned officers, shall be entitled to bounty under this act.

THE LATEST FROM THE WHITE HOUSE.—The Washington correspondent of the Springfield Republican writes: "The very latest news I have from the Presidential mansion is that effect that Senator Fessenden had an interview with the President yesterday, and that he is convinced that there will be no difficulty in managing the matter of restoration without any controversy with the President. The President has made the subjoined remarks recently to a prominent Senator. He said: 'I must look to the Republicans for support and not to the opposition. I am familiar with the history of John Tyler and Millard Fillmore, and do not intend to follow in their footstepts. We will wait for the report of the joint committee, and if it comes within the bounds of reason, I will be satisfied.' These remarks I am certain Mr. Johnson has made within two days. I could mention names but it doesn't seem proper."

THE ASSASSINATION CONSPIRATORS.—The awards for the capture of Booth and his confederate assassins has at length been determined in the War Department. The names of those adjudged to be entitled to portions of these awards will be made known in a few days.

GENERAL WALLACE AND MEXICO.—Reports are in circulation identifying General Lew Wallace with certain military plans and movements in favor of the liberal Mexican government. Some assert he will repair to Mexico and take an active command.

UNFOUNDED REPORTS OF SECRETARY STANTON'S RESIGNATION—All reports of Mr. Stanton's contemplated resignation would seem to be untre, as Mrs. Stanton's arrangements for receptions and parties for the winter have been made as usual.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON expressed himself very decidedly to a member of Congress who called on him yesterday, says a Washington special, in favor of the immediate admission of the Tennessee members.

How to Clear Out Mexico.

The Paris correspondent of the London News has found out a new plan of settling the Mexican question, which he assures his readers is the only genuine method, and that all others are spurious. He says—First, that the French Emperor wants some decent excuse for withdrawing his troops from Mexico. Second, that he has found such excuse. Third, that Max. knows that he will have to "vamose the ranche." Fourth, that he is anxious to find a decent excuse for doing so. Fifth, that he has found such decent excuse. Sixth, that it will be abdication in favor of little Iturbide, who has been formally adopted as heir of the Empire. Seventh, that he will abdicate in favor of that scion of the first Mexican Emperor. Eighth, that France will then withdraw her troops. Ninth, that the reign of Iturbide will then commence. Tenth, that it will not last long. Eleventh, that there will be a revolution, and the Republic will be established. Twelfth, that Louis Napoleon will be satisfied. Thirteenth, that Maximilian will be satisfied. Fourteenth, that Andrew Johnson will be satisfied. Fifteenth, that everybody will be satisfied. These things "if not true, are well invented," as the Italians say.

THE READING RAILROAD.—The annual report of the managers of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad is a long and carefully prepared document, and shows, in a tabulated form, the immense business of the road. The receipts show an increase of twenty per cent. over those of last year, while the net profits are nearly twelve per cent. greater than in 1864. New works have been prosecuted, and are fast being brought to completion, being commodious wharves and new branch and connecting railways, giving greater facility of access to the coal regions, and enabling the great products of those regions to be easily and quickly brought to this city. The statement of the condition of the road will repay the attentive perusal of all who are interested in the growth and prosperity of our State and of the city of Philadelphia.

ON the night of the 1st inst., at the house of Mike Burke, three miles South of Carbondale, Illinois, two railroad hands, named John Conly and William Burke, were boasting of their physical prowess, when a fight ensued. Conly and Burke were clinched, when Burke managed to open a large pocket knife, and cut Conly severely on the back of the neck. Mike Burke pitched into the fight, and Bill Burke was knocked on the head with a heavy boot-jack, breaking his skull, and injuring him so that he died during the night.

The Cedar Falls (Iowa) Gazette says: "On Wednesday morning, about half-past four, a load of passengers, consisting of eight or ten gentlemen and two ladies, attempted to cross the Missouri river at Dubuque, to take the early eastern train. The sleigh was the public conveyance running from Dubuque to Dunleith and the agent accompanying it carried a lantern, for it was yet dark. The sleigh had proceeded but a short distance when the ice gave a lurch to the north and the passengers were precipitated into the river. Colonel W. H. Sessions and his daughter Mary, of this city, were among the passengers. The Colonel went over backwards, and passengers and trunks came on top of him. The agent had jumped from the sleigh as he saw it going down; and in seeking to rescue those in the water had broken in and lost his light. It was so dark now that nothing could be distinguished, and the situation was terrible.

"The colonel was perfectly self-possessed, and repeatedly cautioned those around him not to be frightened and they would all get out. He knew his daughter was in the water, but where she was he could not tell. He got hold of a lady whom he supposed to be her, but soon discovered it was not. He held her up, however, and finally got her out. His daughter had gone entirely under, and came up without her bonnet. She was finally helped out by a stranger, who finally told the colonel that it didn't matter what his name was.

"A ladder was brought and put down into the water. This the colonel grappled, and he says it seemed to him he could hold on to it forever. But his muscles relaxed in spite of him and he went down. He came up and ran his arm through the rounds of the ladder and held on by his fore-arm. He went under the water three times before he got out. Miss Sessions went under twice, and when taken out was almost insensible. Her clothes were soon frozen stiff, and she was unable to walk. Her father, who was the last of all out of the water, having forgotten his own safety in the peril of others, was still active, and carried her to the omnibus on shore."

THE Rev. Dr. Pusey, has written a letter to the Roman Catholic paper, The Weekly Register, which is likely to excite considerable attention. In his opinion there is little difference which need prevent a reunion between the Anglican, Greek, and Roman churches. He is quite willing to recognize the primacy of the Bishop of Rome, and fears only that it may lead to that quasi-authoritative system which is the cause and justification of the present separation on the part of England. He has long been convinced that there is nothing in the Council of Trent that could not be explained satisfactorily—that is, authoritatively by the Church of Rome, and not by individuals. As to such questions as the Immaculate Conception, he asks that they should be made authoritative doctrines, but they should be held, if at all, only as pious private opinions.

☞ CHRISTMAS & NEW-YEAR PRESENTS.—An useful, valuable and delightfully acceptable present for Christmas would be a bottle of that fragrant Hair Tonic and Beautifier, BETROUVEY'S TURKISH BANDOLENIAN. What can be more acceptable than anything that will beautify? that will restore nature's decay by stopping the hair from falling out, restoring its natural color, making it to grow in luxuriance and beauty, assist in putting it up according to the present style and fashion and keep it in place? This Betrouvey's Turkish Bandolenian Hair Tonic will do, and for proof we refer you to any person who has tried it. It is acknowledged to be the beautifier of the age, the only Hair Tonic and Restorer worthy of the name. In Turkey, in France, in England, in America—everywhere where the "Bandolenian" is known—it is pronounced the ne plus ultra of Hair Preparations. Remember, it is free from all metallic poisons that are contained in most Hair Colors and dressings. It is the extract of many flowers and herbs, beautifully put up, an ornament to the toilet.

☞ AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS Are the most perfect PURGATIVE which we are able to produce, or which we think ever has been made by anybody. Their effects have abundantly shown to the community how much they excel the ordinary medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of our remedies; while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction, that our Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow-men. The Agent below-named is pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing directions for the use, and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints: Costiveness, Billious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite. All diseases which are require an evacuant medicine.

They also (purifying the blood and stimulating the system) cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach—such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers, with other preparations which they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S, and take no others. They will want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Being the entire collection of the late Mr. John Hunter, of Hunter's Island, Westchester county, N. Y., comprising in all nearly 400 Genuine Works of the old masters.

It has always been esteemed the best representative Gallery of the Old Masters in the United States. There are no other pictures embraced in this catalogue, it comprising the entire collection of the late Mr. Hunter only. The sale will be positive and without reserve.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Skating Contest.

It having been announced in the city papers that a skating contest would come off at the Central Park yesterday afternoon for certain prizes, a large number of our citizens, including the young and old, grave and gay, merchants and manufacturers, bankers and brokers, professional men, handsome women, and beautiful girls, all wended their way to the spot where the promised sport was to come off. On arriving at the Park, we found all the reception rooms filled, and the ice covered with merry skaters. At the upper end a large gangs of men were at work with scrapers, brooms, wheelbarrows and shovels, and soon that portion of the ice was as smooth as a polished mirror. A rope was stretched across the pond from the music stand to the opposite side, saying as plainly as a rope could speak, to the outside skaters, or those who had not entered for the prizes, thus far shalt thou go, and no farther. At length, the hour having arrived, it was announced that every thing was in readiness for the contest. The skaters swarmed to the rope, while the music stand was filled with ladies, and the walk along the fence was also crowded.

The gentlemen skaters were the first to enter the arena, there being only three or four entries. The prize contested for was a set of massive gold sleeve links or buttons. As a matter of course, each gentleman did his best, and they all performed their evolutions splendidly. We saw feats performed on skates at this trial that we have never seen equalled and we have seen some good skaters. The most difficult figures, the most rapid movements, whirling, turning, twisting, jumping, waltzing, cutting circles backwards and forwards, making one foot the propelling power by using it alternately on one side and then on the other of the foot, that remained upon the ice; these and a thousand other performances, some of them seemingly impossible, were among the feats of the contestants. The time of trial being up, the skaters were withdrawn, and after a brief consultation among the judges, the prize was awarded to Mr. John Shaffer of St. Louis. Mr. Shaffer was called into the arena, and instead of a speech he gave another exhibition of his proficiency in skating.

The ice was now open to the ladies, and the first entries were two Misses Southworth, sisters. These young ladies skated very gracefully, and executed many beautiful and difficult flourishes, and their appearance excited many exclamations of admiration, especially from the ladies. When their time was up, Miss Emma Robinson, of Allegheny, sprang forward upon the ice, light as a fairy, and graceful as a swan, and in the most rapid manner executed some very difficult flourishes. The ladies all did remarkably well, and the praise which they received was well merited. The judges in this instance awarded the first prize—a pair of solid silver goblets—to Miss Emma Robinson, and the second prize—a pair of the very finest kind of skates for ladies—to Miss Ella Southworth.

The rope was now taken down, and the entire Park was thrown open to the skaters. After dark there was a regular carnival. A band of music was in attendance, Chinese lanterns illuminated the Park, and there was a grand display of fireworks. The Company have an immense ice plane in course of construction at the Fort Pitt Foundry, which will be finished to-day, and hereafter there will be a smooth surface on the ice at all times.

We cannot close this article without saying a word in regard to the admirable arrangements made by the Citizen's Passenger railway company for the accommodation of visitors to the park. Extra cars have been put on the road, and the cars stop at the park house every trip, both going and coming, when it is announced that a car is at the door, and which way it is going. Passengers are not under the necessity of standing in the cold to watch for the car.

Highway Robbery.

On Tuesday night a most daring act of highway robbery was committed on the corner of Penn and St. Clair streets, one of the most public thoroughfares in the city. The particulars as far as we have been able to learn them are as follows: On Monday, a young man from Fort Wayne, Indiana, by the name of William Bradley arrived in this city, and took lodging at the Scott House. On Tuesday he drew from one of the banks the sum of five hundred dollars in order to make some purchases, but he failed to complete his purchases and the money remained in his possession. During the evening, he attended one of the places of amusement, and was returning home after the close of the performance, when, on the corner of Penn and St. Clair streets he was accosted by an individual, who, without giving him an opportunity of replying, knocked him down, completely stunning him for the time being, and while in this condition, he searched him, and finding the money decamped with it, and other valuables that Mr. Bradley had on his person, before he could raise the alarm. Mr. B. is now confined to his room at the Scott House, where he is suffering severely from the bruises he received from the ruffian. It is high time that the city was cleared of this class of people.

A House Monger—Reprehensible Conduct.

We have been informed on very reliable authority, that a certain gentleman in one of the upper wards of the city, who holds high official positions, is engaged in the very reprehensible work of renting all the small houses he can find, for the purpose of sub-letting them at an exorbitant rent. Landlords are exacting enough, we think, these times, without any one resorting to such means of oppressing the poor or those in limited circumstances. We fondly hope our informants are mistaken, but if any one is engaged in such a dishonest and unprincipled business—taking advantage of the necessities of the times—his name should be published to the world.

Not Correct.—The statement in reference to Mr. Dietrich having been found nearly frozen, a night or two since, is wholly untrue, as we learn upon reliable authority. There is foundation whatever for the statement. We may state, in this connection, that the amount of money taken from Mr. Dietrich was not $5,000, as stated, but only about $3,000.

First National Bank of Allegheny.—The following named gentlemen have been elected Directors of this bank for the ensuing year: Y. H. Nevin, C. C. Boyle, R. H. Davis, Arthur Hobson, John Thompson, (Allegheny) Wm. Harbaugh, Henry Gerwig, John Dean, R. D. Cochran.

Extension of the Cleveland and Mahoning Railroad to Pittsburgh.

At the request of ex-Governor Tod, of Ohio a number of our citizens engaged in the iron business met that gentleman at the rooms of the Iron Association, in this city, on the 17th of September, for the purpose of hearing what he might be pleased to communicate upon the subject indicated at the head of this article. George Black, Esq., was requested to act as Chairman of the meeting, and did so. Mr. Tod then, in substance, made the following communication:

I appear before you, Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, as President and in behalf of the Board of Directors of the Cleveland and Mahoning Railroad Company, to ask your aid in extending our road from Youngstown, Ohio, its present eastern terminus, by a direct and independent line to your city. The route, which has been carefully surveyed, is down the Mahoning river, upon the north bank thereof, to its mouth, at Mahoningtown, Lawrence Co., Pa.; thence down the Big Beaver, on the east side thereof, to the mouth of the Connoquenessing; thence up this stream and by the valleys of Pine and Brush creek to the Allegheny river at a point some five miles above your city, and thence by the Allegheny Valley Railroad to the heart of your city. The importance of such a line of road to your city need not be dwelt upon before an audience like yourselves, made up of manufacturers.

The demands for transportation of Lake Superior ore from Cleveland, and of pig iron from the Mahoning and Shenango valleys, to your city, and of merchant iron and other manufactured articles from your city to the markets of the West and Northwest, demonstrate the absolute necessity of this line. When you add to this the fact that almost every mile of the new line passes through a rich mineral coal field, the importance of the enterprise to your city cannot be doubted by anyone.

The line, when completed, will be shorter and better in every particular than any other line between the two cities. The facilities of handling freights at Cleveland are far superior to to those of any other line, and quite equal at Pittsburgh. As my main purpose in appealing to the manufacturers of Pittsburgh for aid and assistance in bringing our road to their city is not to secure stock or money, I will not detain you any further upon the character of the enterprise as an investment. What we want mainly is your influence to obtain from the law-making power of your State, the right to come to your city, or in other words, a charter to extend our road from the west line of your State by the route before stated to your city. Will you give it?

Mr. Tod was assured that the enterprise commanded the confidence and good wishes of all present.

ACTION OF THE IRON AND NAIL ASSOCIATION.

At a meteing of the Western Iron and Nail Association, held at Pittsburgh on the 9th of January, the minutes of the meeting of September 17th, before referred to, were read, together with the substance of Governor Tod's remarks, when the following resolutions were moved and unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The whole industrial, mechanical, mining, mercantile and manufacturing interests of this city and surroundings, are now confined to one line of railroad for transportation to the great lakes; and whereas, Gov. Tod's proposition to build us another railroad, without either private or corporate subscriptions, and believing that, independent of all other considerations, another road to the lakes an absolute necessity, to protect the interests of Western Pennsylvania against monopolies, and give us the freedom of the trade legitimately ours; to releasing our business from the control of a few men having no sympathy with us beyond the use they can make of us to make money; therefore.

Resolved, That we approve and fully indorse all that Governor Tod has said, and pledge to him our support and co-operation in procuring the necessary legislation and charter to extend the Cleveland and Mahoning railroad to this city, and that all we can do in an honorable way will be done in furtherance of his enterprise.

And it is also,

Resolved, That under the spirit of a Republican government, any restraints upon freedom in all matters of progress are incompatible with the aims and objects of such a form of government; that as through the aid of steam railroads have become the great necessity of the business of the nation; therefore, we hold that all and any impediments thrown in the way of the multiplication of railroads are so many direct attempts to check the developement of the resources of the nation, and the increase of its wealth.

Resolved, That the necessity of procuring special legislation for the privilege to build each projected railroad is subversive of the purity of the councils of the county, as tending to a corruption of legislation, by direct and indirect attempts to mislead legislators, from efforts on the part of interested parties to keep and create monopolies, to the great injury of he business interests of the nation: therefore,

Resolved, That we earnestly urge upon our legislators to enact such a law as will give to the State of Pennsylvania a free, republican, liberal act of a similar character as that now in operation in Ohio, permitting railroads to be built under proper restrictions, by any or all persons desiring to enter upon such enterprises, in any direction throughout the State of Pennsylvania they may desire; that we urge this measure as the proper spirit that should actuate all legislative bodies who really desire the prosperity of the whole country, the development of its resources, and are opposed to monopolies.

Resolved, That a copy of these proceedings, with the remarks of Governor Tod, be forwarded to the members of the Legislature from Allegheny county, by the Secretary of the Association, and be published in the papers of the city.

JOS. M'KNIGHT, President.

GEO. H. THURSTON, Secretary.

ACTION OF THE PITTSBURGH GLASS ASSOCIATION.

At a meeting of the Pittsburgh Glass Association, yesterday, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we fully endorse the resolutions passed by the Western Iron Association at their meeting, January 9th, 1866, and welcome the information therein imparted that the Cleveland and Mahoning Railroad is endeavoring to obtain such legislation from the State of Pennsylvania as will enable that road to extend its line to Pittsburgh, without asking of us private or corporate subscriptions.

Resolved, That the rapid increase of manufactures at Pittsburgh, renders imperative other outlets for the transportation by rail, of our manufactured articles to meet the demands of our trade, which is often crippled by reliance upon only one line of rail to the Lakes and to the West and Northwest, and that therefore all we can honorably do will be done by us to aid the Cleveland and Mahoning Railroad to complete its line to Pittsburgh.

Resolved, That the delays, the intrigues and misrepresentations consequent upon the necessity for special legislation for each projected line of railroad, are vexations to the people, injurious to trade, and of evil tendencies upon the purity of legislative bodies; therefore, be it further

Resolved, That the passage of a free railroad law, permitting the construction of railroads under proper restrictions, wheresoever those who desire to pay for their building may wish, would be a public benefit as removing one great element of intrigue—one serious obstacle to the dispatch of public business from the legislative bodies, and, as the history of all sections of the country proves, through which railroads have been built, tending to the rapid settlement, and energetic development of the country through which they pass to the enrichment of State, county and individual.

Resolved, That we urge upon our Representatives, the passage of both the free railroad law and a charter for the Cleveland and Mahoning Railroad—the one as a great prospective blessing to the State and the other as an imperative necessity to the prosperity of Pittsburgh.

The Approaching Execution.

To-morrow, the blood stained souls of the two Boyd's Hill murderers, Marchall and Freeke, will, by the stern mandate of an offended law, be launched into eternity. In the meantime preparations for the awful event are going silently on. The jail is closed to the external world, and there is no access to be had to the prisoners except to clergymen, attorneys, members of the Press, or immediate friends of the condemned. Yesterday the work of erecting the scaffold was commenced, and to-day it will be finished. The ropes to be used are already prepared, and to-day their measures will be taken for their coffins. It is often remarked that solitary imprisonment for life is a far more terrible punishment than death. We doubt it, for while there is life there is hope that the influence of friends may be brought to bear, and a pardon be secured. But where death is certain—as in the present instance—when the prisoner can count the hours, aye, even the very minutes of his life, and know that they are passing rapidly way, that he can look upon life up to a certain hour, but not beyond it, the thought is terrible. And here is where the punishment for the crime of murder is. With the death of the criminal, the punishment, so far as concerns this life, ceases. Who will doubt for a moment, that if the choice of life, and solitary confinement, or death on the gallows was offered the condemned prisoners, they would accept the first in preference to the last. To-morrow ends the punishment of Marchall and Freeke so far as concerns man. Of their future, God only knows.

River Thief.

Business at the river being at a stand still, and many of the boats having received a portion of their cargoes preparatory to leaving when the break up comes, a fine field is open for the operations of that class of scoundrels known as river thieves. They prowl about the river, and whenever they can lay hold of any article of value that they can secrete, they carry it off, and sell it to gentlemen with convenient consciences, who ask no questions, but pay low prices. One of these individuals was yesterday noticed loafing about the steamers America and Armenia. The mates of the vessels watched his movements until directly he walked on board the Armenia and helped himself to some picks and wedges. At this stage of the proceedings, he was arrested, and being taken before the Mayor, gave his name as Henry Curran—no relative, however, of the great Irish Orator of that name. The proofs against him were so conclusive that the Mayor required him to give bail in the sum of $300 for his appearance at Court, failing in which, he was committed to jail.

Stole a Pair of Pants.

Yesterday morning a colored man by the name of John Freeman entered the clothing store of Isaac Crown, No. 180 Wood street, and asked to be shown some pants. The proprietor being busy at the moment, pointed to a pile of pantaloons upon the counter, and told him to select a pair. After an examination of the pile, he asked to be shown some furs, but was told that they did not keep them. He remarked that he would go to a fur store and make his purchase, and if he had any money left he would return and take a pair of pants. As he was leaving, Mr. Crown saw that the fellow had secreted a pair of pants under his overcoat, and immediately seized him, and took from him a black cassimere pair, valued at $9,50. Officer Williamson was called in and took Freeman before the Mayor, who committed him to jail in default of bail, to await his trial.

U. S. District Court.—The January term of the United States District Court will commence on Monday.

An Old Pittsburgh Mechanic Murdered.

Neal McDonald, a shoemaker formerly of this place was brutally murdered on New Years day at Charleston, Illinois, by a man by the name of Jesse W. Burr, who claims to be a relative of J. Wilkes Booth. The murderer cut his victim open with a knife without the slightest provocation. McDonald was an Irishman by birth, and had been in this country and Canada for about twenty-seven years. He was a batchelor, and said he was forty-seven years old. He was in General Scotts campaign in Mexico from the bombardment of Vera Cruz to the fall of the city of Mexico. He had quit work the afternoon of his assassination in order to go to Kansas, had his kit of tools under his arm, and was awaiting the arrival of the train. His murderer was arrested.

Amusements.

THEATRE—Miss Herron will to-night repeat her performance of the character of Edith, or the Earl's Daughter, a play dramatized from the novel of East Lynne. She had a very good audience last night, and will doubtless have a good one to-night, as the play is one that meets with considerable favor.

The afterpiece of State Secrets, in which Mr. Harry Lewis appears as Gregory Thimblewell, will also be repeated.

OPERA HOUSE—Frank Drew succeeds admirably in keeping up the interest at the Opera House. He appears to-night in the drama of Giralda, or the Invisible Husband, and in the farce of Wanted, in which that fascinating young gentleman will endeavor to procure the services of one thousand milliners to accompany him to the Oil regions.

Vandenhoff's Readings.—Mr. Vandenhoff will give a reading before the Mercantile Library Association in Lafayette Hall this evening. The entertainment will consist of comic, tragic, and melodramatic selections, which will suit the varied tastes of the large audience which will no doubt be present.

We understand that engagements elsewhere will prevent Mr. Vandenhoff from giving more than one reading at this time.

Surety of the Peace.—E. De Roy appeared yesterday before Alderman Strain, and made information against J. S. Eagan and wife, charging them with using threatening and abusive language towards him, and threatening to "pickle him." The defendants were required to give bail for a further hearing, to come off on Saturday morning.

FROM YESTERDAY'S EVENING GAZETTE.

Marchall and Freeke—Preparations for their Execution.

If the death warrants of Benjamin Bernhardt Marchall and August Freeke are executed at the time required, as they will in all probability be, these wretched criminals have less than forty-eight hours to live. At three in the afternoon of Friday next their time expires. Marchall has no hope of escape or respite, asserts his readiness to die, and admits the justice of his punishment. On the other hand, Freeke now, as ever, stoutly denies his guilt, and with tears and sobs declares himself the victim of Marchall's perfidy. Marchall still retains that composure and resignation which characterized his conduct during the rial. He is perfectly aware of Freeke's trepidation, and it is said that, until recently, he had annoyed Freeke a great deal by talking "through the pipe," and keeping him in "hot water." Freeke stated that he had assurances from Marchall that he would yet come out and state the truth, exculpating him of the murder. Freeke pretends to believe that Marchall will make a statement on the gallows to that effect, if he does not do so before. But, whatever may have been said "through the pipe," it is certain that Marchall never intimated to any responsible party that his "confession" was not true, or that Freeke was not guilty. Sheriff Stewart paid a visit to the condemned to-day, and was met by Marchall with a good-natured smile. Finding him in such good humor, the Sheriff remarked, "Well, Marchall, are you going to take back what you have said about Freeke?" Marchall replied: "I have nothing to take back. If you want to let Freeke off, just open the door and he will find his way out. "On visiting Freeke the Sheriff found him nervous and excitable, still protesting his innocence, and crying out against the injustice of his execution. He said: 'If you hang me, I will die innocent." Such is the condition, and such the outgivings of the two men.

In the meantime, the preparations for the execution are quietly progressing. The scaffold is now being erected in the yard on the south side of the jail. The upright timbers and the cross-beam are already in position, and the platform is now being constructed. The sight of this gibbet is enough to chill the blood, and it is amazing that so many persons exhibit a desire to witness a spectacle so dreadful as the strangling of two degraded, blood-stained beings. Our better nature would appeal for clemency and pardon, that this tragedy might be averted, were it not that the horrid form and mangled features of poor Foerster rise up before the imagination, and his blood cries from the ground for justice. He was sent to his account without a moment's warning; while his slayers, terrible as their death must be, have had time to prepare to meet their God.

On motion, adjourned.

Columbia Hook and Ladder Company

We are pleased to note the fact that this Company, since our former visit to their house on the corner of Anderson and Lacock streets, Fourth Ward, Allegheny, have improved their audience room, which is located in the second story of the building. A number of men are constantly on hand to do duty in case of fire, and their apparatus is kept in perfect condition, while in the audience room the productions of the best literary men of modern times are kept for the perusal of the members and citizens who visit them. The Columbia is always on hand when a fire occurs, and we deem it but proper to give them a passing notice. Being an independent organization, it merits and should receive the support of the citizens of our sister city.

Received His Deserts.—A man, whose name we failed to learn, while acting in a very disorderly manner on Ohio street, Allegheny, yesterday, was requested by officer Scott to desist. He refused to do so, and undertook to "thrash" the officer, whereupon he received a merited thrashing himself, and was conducted to the lock-up. After becoming duly sober he was released, on giving security for his appearance to-day.

Only one Case.—The Mayor of Allegheny had only one case before him this morning. He was charged with the offense of drunkenness. He introduced the plea that he became intoxicated at the Fourth Ward polls yesterday, and, although he had no vote the Mayor discharged him with a reprimand, remitting the fine usually inflicted in such cases.

Elected.—Wm. Hobson, the independent candidate for constable in the Fourth Ward, Allegheny, was yesterday elected to the office of constable by some ninety-eight majority. Mr. S. P. Bennett, his competitor, was the nominee on both the "regular" and "temperance" tickets. Both candidates were recognized as staunch Republicans.

Second National Bank.—The names of the Directors for this bank was inadvertently omitted from our list. They are as follows: G. E. Warner, Jake Hill, John Heath, A. B. McQuewan, Wm. M. Gormly, Wm. Cooper, W. McClintock, Samuel Lewis, L. Heilbroner.

Larceny.—Henry Currin was caught in the act of stealing a number of picks and a mallet from the steamer Armenia, and in default of bail was committed by Mayor Lowry to answer at court. Daniel Beltzhoover is the prosecutor.

Farmer's National Bank of Allegheny—The following are the names of the Directors elected for this bank yesterday: John Brown Jr., Jacob Kopp, James Lockhart, Wm. Smith, L. McIntosh, Hugh McNeal, A. Groetzinger.

Assault and Battery.—John Donovan was held to bail to-day, by Mayor Lowry, to answer a charge of assault and battery, preferred by John McDowell.

41 Exchange National Bank 85 00

The bears took advantage yesterday in New York, of the fears felt in regard to the effect o the new loan bill introduced by Senator Morril, and put gold down to 136, and Five Twenty bonds down to 103. The market recovered tone some what to-day—gold has been firmer, opening at 139, while Five Twenties have advanced ¾ per cent—afternoon quotations 103¾. The balance of the stock list took part in the recovery, though it is plain, the bulls are not confident of their position. Brokers here were buying gold at about 137, most of the day. Seven Thirty bonds are not quite so much in request as on Monday. The decline in gold should however keep them up at present prices.

Our home market for stocks was rather quiet We learned of transactions in Exchange Bank shares, ot 85, in M. & M., at 57½@58. Sales of Columbia Oil, at 24½. This Company hold their annual election on Thursday, the 11th (to-day.)

The money market is ruling rather easier, though the rates keep up for all classes of paper.

The officers of the Cherry Run & Pittsburgh Oil Company received a telegram to-day to the effect that twenty additional leases have been taken on the Morrow Farm, and that their well continues to yield handsomely.

In the report of sales of stocks at McIlwain's on Tuesday evening, there were a couple of errors. United States Oil stock sold at 23, instead of 25, and Monongahela Pioneer which was not quoted at all, brought 9 cents per share.

As will be seen by reference to advertisement the Directors of the Columbia Oil Co., announce a dividend of two per cent, for the month of December. This Company has been paying regular dividends of from two to three per cent a month for for some time past, but the stock for one reason or other, hangs about 25@26.

—Mr. Meredith, the Attorney General of this Commonwealth, at the request of the Auditor General, has given his opinion in writing, in the affirmative on the question: Does the law of 30th of April, 1865, imposing additional taxes for State purposes, apply to the National Banks located within the State? The section referred to, he says, imposes a tax on "every incorporated and unincorporated Banking Institution not paying a tax to the State upon dividends under existing laws." After reviewing the several points of the case, he comes to the conclusion that the act embraces all the National Banks within the Commonwealth, accompanying this decision, however, with the qualification that grave questions may be raised under the Constitution o the United States, on the subject to which his opinion relates. He expresses no opinion on these, because the Auditor General would in no event be justifiable in deciding them peremptorily and finally against the commonwealth, by refusing to execute the Act of Assembly.

—The decline in gold shows conclusively that the Secretary of the Treasury is sound and correct in his financial programme. We are dealing upon a paper basis—that is, we are calling a dollar in gold a dollar and forty cents in currency, and this currency valuation we extend to all the ramifications of trade. The soon er we can bring the paper valuation down to the gold basis, by gradual and not distressful process, the sooner shall we emerge from a false and pernicious system of valuation. We need confidence among the people, confidence to believe that a dollar of United States currency (greenbacks) is worth a dollar in gold, and this confidence it will be the task of the Secretary of the Treasury to impart and diffuse.

—The woolen and cotton mills of New England have realized enormous profits during the last half year, principally the result of the extreme scarcity of goods at the close of the war. Several large companies have made dividends of 20@25 per cent upon the half year's business, and in some cases even 30 per cent has been paid. Twenty-nine of the leading corporations, with an aggregate capital of about $29,000,000, declare dividends for the six months amounting to $3,384,850, which is equivalent to 22½ per cent per annum. Besides these disbursements of interest, several of the companies have laid aside large reserves for extending their works or increasing their working capital. It is all the more remarkable that such large profits should have been realized, considering that the manufacturers have had, for the last six months, to contend with a falling market for raw materials, and that some of them commenced the half year with stocks of cotton bought at prices largely above those subsequently current. At the beginning of the war they had the advantage of a rising market for raw materials, and the disadvantage of an accumulation of goods; at the close of the war the case was reversed—a decline in raw materials and an extreme scarcity of fabrics.

—The Secretary of the Treasury, we are reliably informed, has not as yet given the House Finance Committee in Congress any proposition. It is not supposed that he requires immediate legislation. He is managing his Department most acceptably to the country, with perhaps the single act of selling gold from the Treasury. The sooner he can bring the currency up to coin the better, but it is questionable whether this ignoring of coin as the standard in favor of lawful money does not tend to make coin more and more a commodity The more that paper is cheapened and encouraged, the less will we see of coin, for the two, if of unequal value, will not circulate together. The more valuable will be hoarded, while that which is of less value will perform all the functions of currency. The announcement within a few days that a new issue of fractional currency, to a large amount, had been prepared and put in circulation, in the opinion of many, is not in the direction of an immediate resumption of specie payments. Heretofore, resumption has always begun with first discarding the smaller denomination of paper, and there is certainly no reason, in any lack of necessary supply of coin, why the three and five cent notes should no be at once called in, to be followed at no distant day by a similiar withdral of all denominations of paper under one dollar. The United States Mint, for the last four years, has been steadily employed in coining one cent peices, and for the last two years, two and three cent peices. The supply of cents during the last four years has averaged fully five millions per month, and until within a few months, scarcely one was seen in circulation. Where are they? is a question frequently asked. We answer, stored away; not so much from any profit expected from them in the future, as from the operation of that natural law in trade and rule in currency, the prompt paying away of the cheapest and least valuable currency first. These coins are considered less valuable than the paper, which is steadily shoved from hand to hand. Withdraw this paper, and the small coins, which are less valuable than gold or silver, will come into free circulation. Thus we may slowly approach a general resumption of specie payments.—Phila. Ledger.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, Jan. 10, 1866.

The general markets continue exceedingly dull and neglected; and there is no movement in commercial circles worthy of special notice. The decline in gold has completely unsettled and demoralized the leading markets both east and west, and the want of confidence manifested by speculators, restricts the demand for the leading commodities to supplying the immediate wants of the retail trade. The truth of the matter is there is so little doing, that it is almost impossible to give accurate quotations, but there is no disguising the fact that at present, almost every article of merchandise is depreciating in value.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and nominally unchanged—but little offering, and prime Red would command $1,95@2,00. Oats dull with sales reported at 43@44, on track, and 47@48 for small lots from store. Sale of 1 car Ear Corn at 65; and small sales from store at 70@73. Barley is dull and too irregular to quote with any degree of correctness. Rye is quiet—but little offering.

FLOUR—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and while the market is dull and heavy, prices are nominally unchanged. We continue to quote at $8¼@8½ for Spring Wheat, and $10¼@10½ for good to choice brands of Winter Wheat. Rye Flour is nominal at $6¼@6½ per bbl, and Buckwheat at $5@5½ per cwt.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, Jan. 10, 1866.

There is no movement in the Petroleum market to note, and it is hard to even conjecture when such an event will take place. There seems to be no demand for either Crude or Refined, on the spot, or for future delivery, and the market continues dull and heavy, with a drooping tendency. We can report two small sales of Crude, 50 bbls at 26, bbls returned; and 100 bbls at 25, which show a decline as compared with yesterday. The eastern advices, generally, continue discouraging, though some hopes are entertained that there will be a reaction there soon, and more activity manifested, but the indications at present point to a lower range of prices, as the season is too far advanced to expect an export demand unless pretty large inducement are held out to exporters. At present there is no inquiry whatever for bonded oil, and we doubt very much whether sales could be effected, even if material concessions were made. Free Oil, also, is excessively dull and neglected, and there is not enough doing to form a basis on which to make quotations. Naptha and Residuum entirely neglected.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

Finance and Trade in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The Stock market shows a general reaction from the depression of yesterday. The street appears to consider itself unduly alarmed by the proposed loan bill and very much recovered its wonted composure. The prevailing tone is very decidedly bearish, and the market lacks bottom. This morning there was a firmer tone to railway speculation, with a fair demand for stocks generally. There was an advance on the leading favorites—Erie, Old Southern, Reading, Pittsburgh and Northwestern. Erie remains scarce.

At the second board the market was a little lower on Erie, but strong on the balance of the list, with increased business in Old Southern and Pittsburgh. At the last board Erie and New York Central were steady, but the market was lower during the balance of call.

The following were the closing prices at 4:30 P. M.: Ohio certificates, 56½; New York Central, 95; Erie, 96; Reading, 102¼; Michigan Central, 105; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 79¾; Rock Island, 105⅝; Northwestern, 32¼; preferred, 59; Fort Wayne, 98. Governments exhibit a partial recovery from the decline of yesterday. Old 5-20's rose one-eighth, and 7-30's are one-eighth better. State bonds were dull, with very few transactions.

Gold is steadier. There is less premium for cash gold. For short loans the rate has fallen to one-sixteenth per cent. per day. The price has fluctuated between 138½ and 138, closing at 138⅝.

The plethora of money continues, and demand on the Stock Exchange is readily met at 6 ℘ cent. The price should not have reacted further upward, under covering of short contracts, and the fact is regarded as indicating a downward tendency.

The Australasian took out $225,000 in specie.

New York Market.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Cotton heavy, and 1 to 2 cents lower, at 44@50c for Middling.

FLOUR—Opened 5c better, and closed dull, with the improvement lost, and holders more disposed to realize $7,75@8,00 for Extra State, $8,45@8,65 for Extra R. H. O., and $8,70@10,25 for trade brands. Included in the sales are 1,000 barrels uninspected Extra State for the last half of January, at $7,50.

WHISKY—More active, but without decided change in price; State and Western $2,26@2,28, and 100 barrels Western, in bond, at $2,35.

GRAIN—Wheat opened a little firmer, and closed dull and heavy, for common grades, with holders more disposed to realize. No transactions of any magnitude. Barley dull. Corn dull, with a downward tendency, at 85@88 for unsound, and 88@92 for sound mixed Western in store and delivered. Oats dull, at 46@53 for unsound Western, and 61@62 for sound Western.

GROCERIES—Sugar very firm, at 12c for Cuba Muscovado.

WOOL—Quiet.

PETROLEUM—Lower. Crude 35½@36, and 2,000 bbls Refined in bond at 57½@58.

Also 6,250 bbls New Mess, for January, February, March and April, sellers' option, at $28,50@29,50. Beef steady, at 17@20c for New Plain Mess; 11@14c for Old ditto; 22@24 for New Extra Mess, and 14@17c for Old ditto. Beef Hams more active. Western 37@38c. Cut Meats lower, at 10¼@12¼ for Shoulders; 12¼@15½ for Hams. Bacon dull. Dressed Hogs firmer, at 11½@12 for Western, and 12@12¼ for City. Lard firmer, at 16¼@17¼. Butter heavy, at 20@32c for Ohio, and 25@38 for State Cheese dull, at 12@18.

RIVER NEWS.

RIVER, WEATHER ETC.

Since our last we have quite a change in matters to chronicle. The river has raised about six inches, and the weather has moderated very much. The thermometer at three o'clock yesterday afternoon indicated a temperature of thirty degrees, so that although there has not as yet been any thaw, the weather was quite comfortable, when compared with the recent cold snap. The feeling of the atmosphere denotes a breaking up, and we have no doubt but that a day or two more will change the present hard and dry walking, to soft and slushy thoroughfares. We have no change to notice in the movements of boats or business at the river.

AND HOW HIS

SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS

ACT ON THE

System in Curing that Disease,

AND THE

GREAT SUCCESS ATTENDING IT:

I progressed gradually into the last stage of Pulmonary Consumption. All hopes of my recovery being dissipated, I was advised by my physician, Dr. Parrish, to remove into the country. Morrestown, N. J., about nine miles distant, being my native place, I was removed thither, occupying two full days in the transition. My father, and all his family, had lived and died there—and died of Pulmonary Consumption. On my arrival at Morrestown I was put to bed, where I lay for many weeks in what was deemed a hopeless condition. Dr. Thornton, who had been my father's family physician, and who had attended him in his last illness, was called to see me. He thought my case entirely beyond the reach of medicine, and decided that I must die, and gave me one week to arrange my temporal affairs. He had seen all my family die of Consumption, and therefore concluded that death from the disease which had carried all my kindred to the grave would also take me there. In this apparently hopeless condition, I heard of the remedies which I now make and sell. It seemed to me that I could feel them, working their way, and penetrating every nerve, fibre and tissue of my system.

My lungs and liver put on a new action, and the morbid matter which had for years accumulated and irritated the different organs of the body, was eliminated; the tubercles on my lungs ripened and I expectorated from my lungs as much as a pint of yellow offensive matter every morning. As this expectoration of matter subsided, the fever abating, the pain left me, the cough ceased to harrass me, and the exhausting night sweats were no longer known, and I had refreshing sleep, to which I had long been a stranger. My appetite now began to return, and at times I found it difficult to restrain myself from eating too much. With this return of health, I gained my strength, and am now fleshy, am now a healthy man, with a large healed cicatrix in the middle lobe of the right lung and the lower lobe hepatized with complete adhersion of the pleura. The left lung is sound, and the upper lobe of the right one is in a tolerable healthy condition.

Consumption at that time was thought to be an incurable disease by every one, physicians as well as those who were unlearned in medicine—especially such cases as were reduced to the condition I was in. This induced many people to believe my recovery only temporary. I now prepared and gave the medicine to consumptives for some time and made many wonderful cures, and the demand increased so rapidly that I determined to offer them to the public, and devote my undivided attention to lung diseases. In truth I was next to forced to it, for people would send for me far and near, to ascertain whether their cases were as bad as mine. Having occasion to examine many cases of lung ailment, I was prompted to invent the instrument called "Schenck's Respirometer," which materially assists me in detecting the various stages of lung diseases.

For many years, in conjunction with my principal office in Philadelphia, I have been making regular visits to New York, Boston, Baltimore and Pittsburgh.

For several years past I have made as many as five hundred examinations weekly with the "Respirometer." For such examinations my charge is three dollars, and it enables me to give each patient the true condition of his disease, and tell him frankly whether he will get well.

One of the greatest difficulties I have with patients afflicted with lung disease, is to convince them to avoid taking little colds. Many think if they take my medicines they should cure, no matter how careless they may be in that way. This is a great error, for if any one will read over the many cures which I have published from time to time, they will find that most of them were those of persons who were confined to their beds and could not take cold, and by this careful avoidance of cold the lungs were healed. Physicians advise their patients to go out and inhale the fresh air, but do they cure by so doing? Let the hundreds of deaths by consumption in every city by consumption in every city answer the question.

I would rather risk a patient in a tight, illy ventilated room, than let them go out and take a slight cold. Many who have been cured by my medicines, when the abscesses broke, were so offensive, that one could hardly remain in the room, and yet they got well without exposure to the open air.

The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is, that they try to do too much; they give medicines to stop the cough, to stop the night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive system, locking up the secretions, and the patient eventually dies. What I do is to first make a careful examination with my Respirometer, and if I find lungs enough left, I direct the patient how to use the three remedies, and thus cure him. I know very well that it is impossible to make new lungs, or even restore the portion that is destroyed, but I know at the same time that cavities in the lungs and ulcerations in the larynx and bronchial tubes can be healed, and just such cases are cured by the proper use of "Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup," and "Mandrake Pills," whilst they are dying daily under the ordinary treatment of physicians.

It is a great mistake common among many intelligent persons, that there are medicines which will purify the blood. When the blood is diseased it cannot be purified; it is then the same as other diseased matter in the system and will have to be carried out of the system by the organs which are appointed for that purpose and replaced by new blood, which can by deab improving the nutritive functions and setting the digestive apparatus in good working order. The stomach, liver and bowels, once restored to a healthy condition, then an abundance of good, nourishing food will make new blood, which will push out, as it were, and take the place of that which is diseased, and thus supply the want of the body.

THE PULMONIC SYRUP

Is one of the most valuable medicines known. It is nutricient, powerfully tonic, and healing in itself. It is readily digested and absorbed into the blood, to which it imparts its healing properties. I know no medicine that has done or can do as much to rebuild worn out and broken down conditions of the systems.

SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC

Is distilled from seaweed, combined with tonic and alterative roots and barks, in such a manner as to make a decidedly pleasant medicine, having a powerful tonic effect, without the terrible disastrous results arising from alcoholic stimulants. The Seaweed Tonic produces a lasting results, thoroughly invigorating the stomach and digestive system, and making into healthy blood the food which may be used for that purpose. It is so wonderful in its effects that a wine glass full will digest a hearty meal, and a little of it taken before breakfast will give tone to the stomach, which few medicines possess the power of doing.

The Mandrake Pills

May be taken with entire safety by all ages and conditions producing all the good results that can be obtained from calomel or any of the mercurial medicines, and without any of their hurtful results. They carry out of the system feculant and worn out matters loosened and dissolved by my Seaweed Tonic and Pulmonic Syrup. It will be seen that all three of my medicines are needed in most cases to cure Consumption; and, in fact, my experience enables me to decide that they have cured more cases of that disease than any combinations of medicine known to man.

In the various editions of pamphlets I have published many of the most wonderful cures of Pulmonary Consumption on record. Persons, with both lungs affected, sometimes large cavities in one lung, healed over by my medicines, are now living, and enjoying excellent health. I will give a few cases and select them from different parts of the country, so that those who wish may visit or write to them for more positive information.

Rev. Henry Morgan, a minister of high repute in the city of Boston, and well known over the United States as a man of great ability, was cured by taking my medicine after all other treatment had failed. He has often been writing to me with regard to the facts in his case, and always answers "I am the man." A full statement of his case may be seen in my pamphlet. He had profuse hemorrhage of the lungs, and was very much emaciated.

Martin Koch, farmer, living near Petersburg, Mahoning county, Ohio, was a very bad case of Pulmonary Consumption, and was entirely cured by my medicine. He is well known in that community, and has been the means of inducing a great many persons in Ohio to test these remedies, and with great success. His Photograph, both before and after he was cured, can be seen at my Agent's, Dr. Keyser, 140 Wood Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

William Alexander, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was cured of a very bad case of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint by the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills.

Mrs. Jane Barber, of Washington City, was cured of a bad case of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. She is an aged woman and her complete recovery is very remarkable.

Mrs. Prudence Johnson, wife of Capt. Johnson now residing at No. 32 W. Third street, Williamsburg, N. Y., was cured of Pulmonary Consumption, and is now as as hearty an old lady as can be found.

Peter Styker Beekman, of Somerville, N. Y., was another remarkable cure of Pulmonary Consumption His certificate is attested by his clergyman and other well known citizens.
